

This chapter was translated for <http://nuttyisprocrasinating.wordpress.com> only. And only for those people who don't mind reading unprofessional translation that was being translated FREELY at the translator's and editor's own free times.

Chapter 4.2

Isolated And Without Help (Part 2)

Huang Qi and Gao Hai Ming both glanced at each other and they could see the same helplessness in each others eyes. Huang Qi could only say according to the facts, "This will be difficult, even though the Emperor still has not obtained the jade ruler's seal, the late Emperor's posthumous edict did indeed state that Prince Yong would inherit the throne."

Wu Ruo Jun could not accept it, "Then he simply fabricated the posthumous edict that was written by the Ministry of Ceremony! Since my mother was able to write this letter, it was certainly true."

Considering General Wu's reputation, Huang Qi did not want to bother with this woman so he urged kindly, "What, can this blood letter explain the truth? Not to mention that your Wu family has already been accused of being the enemy now. Even if he is not charged as a traitor, we cannot force the Emperor to abdicate based upon your mother's blood letter!"

A woman was just a woman, there was nothing simple when it came to matters of the Imperial court!

"Long Qu Mu has reigned for twenty years with exorbitant taxation, slaughtering of loyal citizens and wars lasting for so many years. He is simply a tyrant!" Wu Ruo Jun did not think she was wrong at all. Even if there wasn't her mother's blood letter or any evidence that Long Qu Mu actually seized the throne, there was plenty of evidence he did not have the qualifications to be the Emperor. Even if there was no blood letter, she would always believe this vicious man did not have any qualifications to be the master of the country.

How could they not know the Emperor's viciousness? But how could they be able to fight with the monarch? Gao Hai Ming could not help but sigh and say, "Prince Rui is the son of the eldest prince, so he is the only person who has the opportunity and qualifications to fight for the Emperor's throne. If the general was still here combined with the hundreds officials to assist Prince Rui to be the Emperor and take charge of everything, then perhaps there would still be an opportunity. But now..."

General Wu was dead and Official Li, who had been the high official for many years, could not find the jade ruler's seal. Even if they could find it, who would be able to assist the new king?

These were all excuses, so Wu Ruo Jun sneered: "Since you have this intention, you can also support Prince Rui! If you are going to overthrow Long Mu Qu's regime, you have to expose the pole and stand up, even if you have to support yourselves to be the king!" These past years, they did not have any courage to stand up against Long Mu Qu.

"Ruo Jun hold your tongue!" Li Ling shouted loudly. How could she say these kinds of disgraceful words? As an official, assisting the Long family as the monarch was within their duties, how could they have other schemes in their hearts?

Wu Ruo Jun gritted her teeth, but did not dare to disrespect this person whom her dad had respected deeply.

This child was also very pitiful, so Li Ling patted Ruo Jun's shoulder, and with a comforting voice said, "Your dad has already gone, you both are the Wu family's blood. The Emperor will certainly not let you go, so I will think of a way to send you out of the city." He was an old man who was not afraid to die, if he could help the Wu family's blood it could be regarded as not letting down Zheng Ting who had been his friend for so many years.

"Official Li..." She could not just give up!

Li Ling waived his hand and did not let her continue talking. His eyes were filled with lament as he talked in a quiet voice as if he was talking to himself, "Forget it, forget it, it is too bad that you are not a man."

Wu Ruo Jun had deep inner strength so she could hear clearly his quiet muttering.

"A man!? So it is actually like this! So it is actually like this ah!" Wu Ruo Jun suddenly laughed heartily; her laughter sounded domineering which stabbed the eardrums of these so-called important ministers!

If she was a man, would these officials not say that this blood letter and what she said were worthless?!

If she was a man, would they be willing to believe her words?

If she was a man, could she inherit her dad's position to assist the new king?

If she was a man, would she be entitled to take the pole and stand up, and get rid of the person who harmed the citizens?

It was too bad that she was not a man, not a man ah!

So it was like that!

So it was like that!

Her insolent and devastating laugh coupled with her bleak, cold eyes and unruly temper made these people who had been government officials for a long time feel fear.

"Ruo Jun thanks all of the officials but as long as Wu Ruo Jun is alive, one day this animosity will certainly be avenged!" Wu Ruo Jun had enough of laughing, so she took her younger sister and without looking at these hypocritical and gutless faces, she strode indifferently out of the study room leaving only that promise filled with chilliness and determination.

"Ruo Jun!" Li Ling chased after her, how could this child be tough like this?

Wu Ruo Jun stopped her footsteps, but did not turn around as she indifferently asked, "Official Li, where is my dad's body?"

"The Emperor found out that you went to the execution ground and became furious so he ordered the man to hang General Wu's body at the city gate to be exposed publicly for ten days. Ruo Jun, by all means you must not go, this is a trap in order to arrest the both of you!" Li Ling still wanted to say more, but Wu Ruo Jun's figure which gracefully held her younger sister, had already jumped over the wall. The party in this small courtyard could not see even a shadow of the arrogant and beautiful woman.

"Ruo Jun!" Perhaps only the frost and snow in the winter night was actually responding to him.

The three people inside the courtyard looked in the direction that Wu Ruo Jun had just left in and their hearts became alarmed all at once. It was really a pity, if she was a man she would have unlimited accomplishments ah! It really was unfortunate!

In the cold winter night, the three people only felt that they were getting older.