Chapter 62.2

Storm (Part 3)

With a soft sigh, Lao You waved his hands and said, "Let it be. Let's go, we will return to the back of the ship as the boat is still at the center of the storm so we have to be careful with everything. Xiao Qing can take care of things around here." As he was going out of the door, Lao You thoughtfully took a glance at Xiao Zong Qing before he finally retreated without saying anything.

Xiao Zong Qing and Shang Jun were the only ones left inside the cabin now. Xiao Zong Qing clutched and then let go of his hands from Shang Jun's collar several times; Shang Jun was a woman, so would he (XZQ) ruin his (SJ) reputation by removing his clothes like this?! He should not care too much about this, because saving someone was more important. If Shang Jun took offense, then he would just marry her because he liked Shang Jun anyway.

After convincing himself, Xiao Zong Qing held his breath and lightly untied Shang Jun's outer clothing. The clothes were all wet and stuck to her body, so removing them was not that easy. Taking her into his embrace, Xiao Zong Qing did not dare to look, as he cautiously took off the robe until he saw the wrapped bindings around her chest. This was even more difficult and Xiao Zong Qing's forehead was filled with sweat as he took several deep breaths before he stretched his hand towards Shang Jun's chest. But even after looking for a while, he still did not know how to remove this thing because it was wrapped up so tight!

Shang Jun was absentminded as she felt someone removing her clothes, so when she opened her eyes after great difficulty and saw Xiao Zong Qing's hand pulling at her own chest, she became startled and loudly shouted, "What the heck are you doing?!"

His weak body made his shouting sound feeble and lacking any strength; when Xiao Zong Qing looked towards Shang Jun and saw that he (SJ) had already woke up, he (XZQ) became happy as he smiled and said, "Shang Jun?! You woke up ah." Thinking about the ambiguous position he was in just now, Xiao Zong Qing's face suddenly reddened and he hurriedly withdrew his hand and explained, "Do not misunderstand; I just wanted to help you remove your clothes."

Shang Jun sat up after some difficulty and then retreated to the furthest area of the bed as he answered, "Out of the question."

"You will get sick if you stay wet like this, so do not be stubborn." Xiao Zong Qing wanted to step forward but Shang Jun grabbed the quilt and hugged it to his chest as he shouted loudly, "I said no!"

Xiao Zong Qing blankly stared, then scratched his head and said somewhat embarrassed, "I know you are a woman, so it is inconvenient to have me change your clothes, but you need to remove those wet clothes, so let me help you, alright? I guarantee that I will not randomly look!" After he finished speaking, he lifted his two fingers to vow.

Shang Jun was greatly alarmed as he lowly roared, "What nonsense are you talking about?!" How could he know that he was a woman? Could it be that he ... a moment ago?

Xiao Zong Qing said in a low voice, "I did not speak nonsense; when you previously threw up, I helped you tidy up your clothes and accidentally found out."

After he had finished speaking, Shang Jun's face became even more pale. His deathly pale face would scare even more people now, but he (XZQ) could not continue to be in a deadlock with Shang Jun like this. If he really did get a fever because of this, then what would he do? Xiao Zong Qing sat on the side of the bed and then seriously said, "Shang Jun, I do not know why you want to hide the fact that you are a woman and I do not care why, but I do care for your life. If you do not want me to help you, I will have to ignore your wish anyway!"

He was very clear about San Er's temperament, and since he would keep his promise, Shang Jun hurriedly said, "Hold on, I will do it myself."

Xiao Zong Qing looked at him doubtfully as Shang Jun lightly nodded.

As he turned his back, Xiao Zong Qing sullenly said, "Go ahead and try it, but if you cannot do it, call me."

Shang Jun looked at Xiao Zong Qing's stiff back and did not know whether to laugh or cry; how could he change clothes in front of a man, no, even if he was undressing behind this man?! Shang Jun lowly sighed and asked, "San Er, can you go out first?"

"No, what happens if you faint? If you do not believe me, then I will put a wrap over my eyes." After he finished speaking, he really did pick up a cloth from the side and covered his eyes.

"I..." Shang Jun did not know what else to say! Forget it, he carefully untied the cloth wrapping on his chest and untwisted the many layers. Just untying it already sapped all of Shang Jun's strength, and it was only after great difficulty that the wet cloth on his body was able to be removed. Shang Jun found that he did not have any clothes to change into, so he could only helplessly grasp a couple of quilts to wrap his body with.

When one's eyes were blindfolded, one's ears would be particularly sharp, so the sounds of clothes rustling behind him, along with Shang Jun's light and shallow breathing, caused Xiao Zong Qing's nervous heart to speed up even more.

After a long time, Xiao Zong Qing asked in a low voice, "Are you done?"

Shang Jun bowed his head to look at himself and answered, "Done." This could be regarded as done.

Untying the cloth from his eyes, Xiao Zong Qing turned his head, and for a moment, blankly stared; what the heck was he doing? His whole body was covered by quilts and only his head was exposed! But after seeing the wet clothes off to the side, Xiao Zong Qing understood. Strictly speaking, under those quilts, Shang Jun was not wearing anything at all! Even though Shang Jun was now tightly covered, Xiao Zong Qing still felt hot for no reason! Seeing each other like this seemed very uncomfortable!

"I..." Averting his line of sight, Xiao Zong Qing crossed his body and was somewhat at a loss when he said, "I, I will go to get the stove."

When he walked to the door, he came back again to help find a new set of clothes for Shang Jun and put them by the side of the bed before Xiao Zong Qing hurriedly walked out again.

"San Er!" Xiao Zong Qing stopped his footsteps, but did not turn around.

"Shang Jun thought for a while before he asked in a low voice, "The matter about me being a woman, have you told anybody else?"

Xiao Zong Qing's back was rigid; he was somewhat peeved as he coldly answered, "You can be at ease, I will not tell any other person about your matter."

With a loud banging sound, the door was closed. Shang Jun supported his own head, it hurt!! He did not think that San Er would know that he was a woman. He could not tell anyone else about this matter, as he only wanted to work hard to be stronger and then avenge his parents. He even feared the fact that others knew that "he" was actually a she, so he admittedly had his heads in the clouds now!

Sian's notes:

This chapter is so hilarious!!!! But sad at the same time. I can imagine in my head when poor XZQ was trying to unbind the wrapped clothes around SJ's chest. LOL... The paragraph where San Er said he would marry her because he liked her anyway, was soooooo cute!!! And then, this part "I guarantee I won't randomly look..." hahahahahaha.... So hilarious. XZQ would close his eyes while he help SJ.

And yes, we decided to use "she" pronounce in that paragraph when XZQ was trying to remove SJ's clothes because both my editor & I felt it would be weird to keep it a "he" so we made the rare change this time... Don't get used to it.
