

This chapter was translated for <http://nuttyisprocrasinating.wordpress.com> only. And only for those people who don't mind reading unprofessional translation that was being translated FREELY at the translator's, editor's and proofreaders' own free times.

Chapter 92.2

Breaking the Formations

More than two hours after the soldiers had set off, Shu Qing finally could not help but come out of her tent. She originally wanted to wait in her tent until they came back, but she was just too nervous being in there. She was done doing the calligraphy that would usually comfort her, but now it seemed useless this time around. The people who were fighting now were Xuanyuan Yi, Shang Jun, Yan Yu and Cang Su and each one of them was her close relative. At this moment, she felt powerlessness and anxiety that she had never experienced before. Perhaps sitting in the main camp constantly listening to the battle reports that came in would help calm down her heart.

Before she rushed over to the main camp, she raised her eyes and saw Qin Xiu Zhi who was sitting and half leaning against the big rock in front of her. He was holding a book in his hand and staring at the same page of the book for a long time, it was as if he was studying it, but clearly he was looking into the distance lost in his thoughts. The sunshine was shining on his white clothing, making it appear whiter than the surrounding snow, as his slender fingers turned the page absentmindedly. Murong Shu Qing amusingly watched him sit there in a daze without disturbing him at all. She estimated that his mood was the same as hers, so how could he read a book under the dazzling sunlight?

The people inside the army tent were anxious while the people who were in the battle fought vigorously.

Several days ago, Shang Jun had already done a good job arranging the assignments, so after the three groups entered their own assignments, they went straight to break the formations. They were swift and orderly; even though there were three thousand people inside these formations, they were extremely quiet. This was Shang Jun's strategy as he did not want to disturb the formations too much to give them an advantage!

Within the five elements formation, even though Shang Jun's injury had been greatly healed by Cang Su, he was still worried that he would encounter that demonic man clothed in purple, so Shang Jun preserved his strength. He commanded Yan Yu and Yan Feng to take the lead; fortunately, there were not a lot of soldiers from Cang Yue ambushing them inside the five elements formation. With the cooperation of a thousand soldiers, the five elements formation was basically under their control within two hours. Yan Yu approached Shang Jun and once he was next to him, said, "Master Shang, the soldiers from Cang Yue who were inside the five elements formation have almost been wiped out, but I haven't heard any news from Cang Su or Xi Mu."

Shang Jun nodded and said with a smile, "It is alright, we have to believe in them. Breaking the confused mind and heavenly dragon battle formations is not easy. We just need to ensure that this five elements formation is unimpeded in order to break the trap arrangement inside this formation. After they break the other two formations, they will not get caught inside them and the chain formation will also be broken."

Even though they were inside the formation this time, he felt that it was somewhat different from the one he had entered last time, but he already anticipated this from earlier. Since he was discovered by them last time, they would naturally change it to some extent. However, this new arrangement was actually beneficial to them. There were many mysterious variations that were not easy to solve, but at the same time since it was not easy to alter a formation at all, he was still able to control this formation.

"Yes." Yan Yu was just about to leave the main formation to break the trap arrangement when suddenly the sound of horses' hooves came over from the distance and caused him to halt his footsteps.

Everyone else also heard this sound and asked one after another: "What sound is that?"

Fan Feng carefully listened for a moment and looked at Shang Jun as he tranquilly said, "Listening to the sounds of these steps, the people who have come over this time are no less than 10,000 people."

10,000 people?! His words caused the soldiers who were discussing this a moment ago, to continue discussing quietly. They only had 1,000 people! How could they square up to fight 10,000 people? Even though they knew the difference in the number of people was a large disparity, they still were all well-trained elite soldiers after all. Everyone's expression remained calm and did not reveal any fear in the face of the upcoming fierce battle.

Shang Jun secretly nodded. This was the reason why he insisted on selecting them carefully, because breaking the formations required many elite soldiers since it was not easy. Everyone who had come in with him already basically understood the battle situation, so facing the surrounding situation, Shang Jun said to Yan Yu: "Yan Yu, do not break the trap arrangement who has come in with him already, suddenly understood the battle situation, so facing the surrounding situation, Shang Jun said to Yan Yu, "Yan Yu, do not break the trap arrangement now, instead adjust to the situation and make use of the formation that we have already altered to battle their new soldiers. This time we will engage as cats."

Shang Jun was relaxed and had self-confidence which caused all of the soldiers to not be able to help themselves from smiling in their hearts. Shang Jun then asked with a clear voice, "Do you guys have confidence or not?"

"We have confidence." A thousand people replied unitedly with a resounding loud sound.

Shang Jun was satisfied as he nodded his head and said, "Alright, begin the deployment. Divide those people who came in. The less people who enter the heavenly dragon battle formation that Cang Su is trying to break, the more beneficial it is for Cang Su. Lead as many people as possible into the confused mind formation."

"Yes."

Under Shang Jun's command, these soldiers slightly adjusted the formation within the same short period of time as a burned incense stick. But to those people who were not familiar with the adjustments, the difference was like night and day. Quickly hiding themselves behind the formation, they immediately began to fight back.

Taking advantage of these new Cang Yue soldiers who were unfamiliar with the situation, the troops scattered around the formations. Yan Yu commanded 500 elite troops and attacked them one by one, while the remaining ordinary soldiers entered the confused mind formation. Soon, they were poised to win the battle.

Suddenly, more than fifty blue clothed men entered, and they were clearly familiar with this formation. Their participation threw Shang Jun's plan into disorder, so he attempted to adjust the formation and the arrangement again. But before he could take a step, a purple clothed man obstructed his way.

Su Qing's cold and cruel eyes appeared to show indifference as his gloomy and cold voice swiftly declared, "I underestimated you, Shang Jun." He unexpectedly did not die from his palm and instead was still able to come back very quickly to break the formations. This person could be considered an opponent who could arouse his interest.

It was him! Shang Jun was wondering when he would appear! Slightly cupping his hands to greet, Shang Jun peacefully answered, "You flatter me."

Under his defeat, Shang Jun still dared to be relaxed like this in front of him, so a raging flame long whip waved towards Shang Jun without any warning. Shang Jun quickly moved aside and jumped backward to dodge the danger. Su Qing with his raging flame long whip in his hand, coldly smiled and said, "It is a pity that you do not have any good luck today."

Shang Jun stood there gracefully, as he lightly patted the dust from the sleeve of his garment, before smiling gently and answering, "My luck has always been good. On the contrary, it is your luck that is rather rotten."

The sounds of his words had not even finished yet, when an even more fierce and unstoppable long whip attacked him mercilessly again.