Chapter 99.3

Night Attack (Part 2)

"Who knows what tricks you have come up with to win the trust of the masters, maybe there are other plots!"

Shang Jun suddenly laughed, and even though his chest ached incessantly, he still could not stop laughing. He was finally able to see the difference between a scholarly type of person and a military type of person today, as this person's rationality was not too clear. Although Yu Han did not say a word, he was already tacitly approving the young man's outcry. He (SJ) admitted that he wanted to find a breakthrough related to Long Qu Mu so he saved them, but this did not mean that he must be one of them!

"Whatever your thoughts are, I just casually saved two people. I am not interested in knowing the grievances involved, but with you attacking late at night, it is biting the hand that feeds you, so I want an explanation!" Sitting up slowly, Shang Jun's voice was not loud, and it was actually somewhat weak, but indeed every sentence hit the listener's heart.

"You..." The young man wanted to say something, but Yu Han gently raised his hand and the big man next to him immediately scolded, "Everything is determined by the master. Don't talk too much."

The young man bitterly stared at Shang Jun, but he did not dare to say anything more.

When he had seen this man for the first time, he already knew he was an extraordinary person. He is now lazily sitting on the soft couch and his clear eyes seem to be closed while his face is so pale it seems as if there is almost no blood in him. But the imposing manner he gives off, causes everyone present to realize he is not a member of the Iron Armored Army. He has never heard of such a person around Long Qu Mu. Perhaps it is his luck, but such an excellent person must have a background. So, although he appreciates him very much in his heart, he still does not dare to trust easily or try to get close.

"Both myself and the woman you have saved, are brother and sister. After we were considered a prestigious family, we unexpectedly offended powerful officials and were to be assassinated. Fortunately, someone secretly informed my younger sister and I to run away that very night, but since then we have been hunted down by the Iron Armored Army. I first wanted to leave Cang Yue, but I was caught by the Iron Armored Army at the border city. The family general could only rescue me, so my younger sister was taken away by them. My family general and I lost in the next battle and that was when I met you at the inn. You helped me and I thought I had escaped, but after meeting with the family general, I found my younger sister's whereabouts after searching the whole way. I planned to attack and rescue my sister tonight." Yu Han was still holding the woman and bowed slightly. After this salute, he said, "If you were offended by this reckless action tonight, please forgive me."

How good this Yu Han is! How good was this speech about a reckless move and still asking for forgiveness. One of his statements was unclear, and there were many cryptic remarks in this explanation of his! Shang Jun sneered, as he only heard a little bit clearly, which was that they were chased down by the Iron Armored Army. Since there were not many clues from him and Wei Xi and Qi Ling were not here either, Shu Qing's whereabouts are still unknown. He really should not entangle with them anymore.

"Let them go." Ye Yan released their acupuncture points and Shang Jun replied indifferently to Yu Han, "Yu Han, I will believe what you said for the time being. Take your younger sister and go."

He actually did not make things difficult for them, so this was beyond Yu Han's expectations. What kind of mentality and attitude does this person have?! He appreciates him even more now. He had heard someone call him Shang Jun just now and since Yu Han still wanted to hear more about his name, he asked, "Thank you very much. Gentleman, I dare myself to ask for your name?"

"We are meeting by chance, so there is no need to ask more questions."

Since Shang Jun was not willing to talk anymore, Yu Han could only secretly regret.

"We are taking our leave."

Just when the group of talented people came out of the small courtyard, they heard a low roar from the distance. The young man looked surprised and strangely said, "What sound is that?"

With the support of Xiu Zhi, Shang Jun went out of the courtyard while his feet were slightly shaking. The sound was getting closer and closer, and even though it was still dark, he could clearly see the gray dust in the distance. Shang Jun sighed, "They came so quickly." It is indeed Cang Yue's prestigious Iron Armored Army!

The sounds coming from the distance soon became clearer. It was the sound of hundreds of stomping iron hooves. Yu Han's face sank as he shouted, "Get on the horses and don't drag them down." He was afraid that they could not escape this calamity tonight, and there was no need to implicate others!

Shang Jun once again looked squarely at the man in front of him who was eager to leave on the horse. Unexpectedly, he was still a bit responsible, but after hearing the sounds of the horse's hooves, Shang Jun muttered, "I'm afraid it's too late."

Sure enough, before Shang Jun's words had finished, the light from the torches had rushed straight into the sky, stabbing his eyes, and staining the dark curtain of midnight. The horses galloped at an extremely fast speed and since they were only a few miles away from the small courtyard, they could besiege them in a blink of an eye. The small courtyard backed up to a short mountain peak and the team of horses soon surrounded them in a semicircle. No matter which direction Yu Han walked in, it was impossible to escape the attack.

They seemed unable to escape this catastrophe.
