

This chapter was translated for <http://nuttyisprocrasinating.wordpress.com> only. And only for those people who don't mind reading unprofessional translation that was being translated FREELY at the translator's, editor's and proofreaders' own free times.

Chapter 107.1

Married Couple? (Part 2)

"Jun, do you think it's a good (idea)?"

Shang Jun was startled; why did he ask him?! Everyone looked at him, especially Xiu Zhi, who originally seemed to have something to say, but now was only silently staring at him. Shang Jun was a little uncomfortable, so he shrugged and said as if it had nothing to do with him, "This (idea)... should be asked of the Princess and Xiu Zhi."

Long Liu Li's face was flushed and slightly lowered when she whispered back, "Liu Li will listen to older brother's arrangement."

Long Yi Hai took a glance at Qin Xiu Zhi and at the shy Long Liu Li. He naturally understood his younger sister's thoughts, but the identity of this Gentleman Qin was not clear. However, looking at his distinguished temperament and good manners, he should be a literary man. Additionally, they could interact better during this journey, so he could also weigh over this matter carefully. Long Yi Hai looked at Qin Xiu Zhi and said with a smile, "Master's idea isn't that bad, otherwise it would be difficult for a group of people to go to the capital city. Everything is a plan of convenience, so there is no need to worry about anything too much. I don't know what Gentleman Qin will think about this idea?"

Qin Xiu Zhi remained silent, still staring at Shang Jun.

"Gentleman Qin?" Long Yi Hai called twice before Qin Xiu Zhi opened his mouth to speak, but it seemed that he was talking to Shang Jun, "I want to hear your opinion (about this)."

Shang Jun's brows were almost tied into a knot. What was wrong (with everyone) today? San Er was asking him for trouble and Xiu Zhi was also joining in on the fun?! What did he want him to say?! Xiu Zhi does not know any martial arts at all, so by pretending to be a husband and wife, not only can it hide him from the people's eyes and minimize any trouble, but it could also allow him to be the focus of everyone's protection. After calmly thinking it through, Shang Jun replied in a deep voice, "Pretending to be a husband and wife... is a good idea."

Qin Xiu Zhi's heart ached as if it was being pressed by a big rock. Shang Jun does not care that he was pretending to be a husband with a wife. Even if he married someone else, he did not have any feelings at all. Maybe he would even say congratulations to him! Qin Xiu Zhi smiled bitterly; why did he ask anyway?! It was just inviting a self-inflicted humiliation; it was always his own wishful thinking, his own delusions!

"Prince Rui and Princess, please come with me." Ignoring the gaze from behind him, Qin Xiu Zhi concealed his heartache and walked towards the side courtyard without looking back at Shang Jun.

As the three of them entered the side yard, Shang Jun looked at Qin Xiu Zhi's departing back. He looked thoughtful, as if he was at a loss. At just the right time, a pair of powerful hands wrapped around his shoulders when San Er's low voice was soft in his ears as he said, "You didn't sleep all night last night; will you sleep for a little bit? I will call you when we are ready to leave later."

"En." He retreated a moment later; Shang Jun was still not used to getting too close to people, but Xiao Zong Qing did not care about this at all and took him all the way back to the room.

He Shao Hua stared at the back of the two embracing as they left with a look of surprise. He Cheng patted his chest hard and shouted, "What are you looking at?? Pack our things and let's go!"

Two big men were hugging each other! That was outrageous! Pointing in the direction they left in, He Shao Hua wanted to say something, but his hand was slapped down by his own father. Holding his collar, He Cheng cursed in a low voice, "Don't bother me with anybody's matters; let's go."

Although homosexuality was not too common in Cang Yue, it still had existed since ancient times. He was not sure who Shang Jun was, but he knew that the man named Xiao Zong Qing could never be offended, especially during this time!!

After tossing around and failing to fall asleep, Shang Jun got up and inwardly adjusted his breathing, but he was too eager to open the meridians that had been closed due to injury. Shang Jun suddenly felt a sweet taste in his throat, his blood was flowing the wrong way and a trace of blood slid from his lips.

He still can't do it! His current level is only 30% of his original skill; when will he fully recover?! He slammed the wooden cabinet beside him, but one could only hear a muffled noise. The wooden cabinet shook several times before the books and porcelain on the cabinet fell to the ground. Shang Jun sullenly retracted his hand; what the heck was wrong with him?!

Feeling distraught and anxious, Shang Jun simply pushed open the door. The cold wind hit his face immediately and as he breathed in the cold air, his restlessness gradually stabilized. When he walked into the courtyard, he saw Xiao Zong Qing in black standing in the middle of the courtyard. His tall body, with his calm temperament, even from just a back view, it still made people unable ignore him at all. San Er, he really is no longer the boy from that year.

Liu Yun came in from outside the courtyard and respectfully said, "Master, everything is ready, we are just waiting for Prince Rui and Princess."

"En." Xiao Zong Qing looked back at the side door just in time to see Shang Jun standing there looking at him in a daze, so he walked over to Shang Jun's side and softly asked, "You already woke up? Why don't you sleep a little bit more?"

Shang Jun put his hand into his sleeve and replied, "I've had enough sleep."