

This chapter was translated for <http://nuttyisprocrasinating.wordpress.com> only. And only for those people who don't mind reading unprofessional translation that was being translated FREELY at the translator's, editor's and proofreaders' own free times.

Chapter 107.2

Married Couple? (Part 2)

Xiao Zong Qing thought he was cold, so he took off his cloak and put it on Shang Jun's shoulders. Shang Jun refused, and now the two were staring at each other as neither would compromise. Suddenly Liu Yun shouted in a low voice, "Stop right there!"

The people who were waiting in the courtyard were all startled. They all looked in the direction of Liu Yun's shouting and saw a middle-aged man about 40 years old. He was standing at the entrance of the courtyard, wearing an old cotton jacket. His face was full of wrinkles from life hardships as he looked at them in horror.

Liu Yun approached and coldly asked, "Who are you?"

The middle-aged man took a step back in panic and then tremblingly replied, "Uncle, I am a horse worker from the front courtyard. The boss asked me to take a few horses over to the back courtyard. I don't know anything ah."

A horse worker? Liu Yun looked him up and down for a long time. At this time, from the side courtyard, Qin Xiu Zhi led a young woman out drawing everyone's attention.

The woman looked as if she was a peachy plum; she looked gentle and easy-mannered, with her long hair curled into an elegant bun. She was standing beside Qin Xiu Zhi, looking remarkably alive and well as a young married woman.

Everyone stared at her as Long Liu Li pulled on her sleeve slightly unnaturally and asked, "Is this all right?"

As soon as she uttered those words, the generals from the Royal Palace were sure that the woman who was still beautiful but completely different from her original form, was the princess.

Xiao Zong Qing laughed and applauded softly, while he said, "What a beautiful and charming lady, a very good pair."

They really match well. Standing together, the two of them were handsome man and beautiful woman. It is a perfect match. Shang Jun lowered his head and pretended to tidy up his clothes, thus ignoring the flash of pain in Qin Xiu Zhi's eyes.

He Cheng kept looking at Qin Xiu Zhi's back and after noticing that Long Yi Hai had not come out after a long time, he said anxiously, "Where is Prince Rui?"

Long Liu Li smiled mysteriously and replied, "Older brother is already in the courtyard."

Everyone looked at each other and He Shao Hua shouted in disbelief, "No ah, we haven't seen Prince Rui come out all along."

Qin Xiu Zhi remained silent and Long Liu Li only smiled and did not answer. In this yard, there was no one else except them... wait, there was one other person! He Cheng turned around and looked at the middle-aged man who was still held up at the door by Liu Yun. He hesitated before he said, "Could it be..."

"Haha..." The middle-aged man suddenly laughed and loudly said, "Gentleman Qin's disguise technique can be described as superb!" He had always been interested in the disguise technique and even studied it for a while, but today when he saw Qin Xiu Zhi's skills, he knew he had only learned the basic of skills. No wonder Qin Xiu Zhi could see through his disguise from a glance in the past.

"It is really Prince Rui!" The husky and shivering voice suddenly became clear and He Shao Hua could not believe his eyes. Approaching Long Yi Hai to take a closer look, he saw every wrinkle on his face was extremely detailed; even the eyebrows and the eyes were those of a middle-aged man. This face is the face of Prince Rui who had been by his side all the time. After being deceived from the appearance, He Shao Hua had to admit, "It's amazing."

Long Yi Hai walked over in the middle of Qin Xiu Zhi and Long Liu Li and loudly said, "From now on everyone will call me Zi Han, Liu Li is the madam and Gentleman Qin is the young master."

"Since everyone is ready now, let's go. Gentleman Qin and Madam will ride in the same carriage, Zi Han will drive the carriage and the others will escort the carriage." Xiao Zong Qing was also shocked by this exquisite disguise skill that seemed to be out of this world. Qin Xiu Zhi, you really have some ability! Fortunately, he likes opponents who are rather capable. He had deliberately exaggerated the word 'Madam', and after seeing Qin Xiu Zhi's brows furrowed as he had hoped, Xiao Zong Qing looked at Shang Jun in a good mood and smiled softly to say, "Jun, you are not in good health so you will be in a carriage in the back."

"Alright." Shang Jun readily agreed, and took the lead out of the courtyard to get into the carriage.

Xiao Zong Qing looked at Shang Jun's hurrying figure and his smiling face gradually became cold.

Jun, darn it! You care about that man named Qin Xiu Zhi!!

*****

Cang Yue's main tent at Lin Feng Guan border was waiting to be surrendered. Inside the allegedly sad and desolate main tent, You Xiao leaned back on a chair, with his feet on the table as he carefully wiped the silver halberd in his hand. The cold radiance reflected on his face, but there was no trace of decadence.

A young soldier went directly in to main tent without being notified, half kneeling and saluting, "General."

Without raising his eyes, You Xiao coldly said, "Say it."

"Prince Rui was forced to the cliff in the northern suburbs of You Cheng city; he refused to surrender and fell to his death."

"Fell off the cliff?" You Xiao wiped the silver halberd with his hand and continued to ask, "Did they find the corpse? Are you sure it was him?"

"Yes, they found a corpse on a rocky beach under the cliff." After momentarily pausing, the young soldier still truthfully replied, "However, the corpse scraped down the rock wall and its face was completely bloodied and mutilated, but from the body shape and clothing, it was Prince Rui."

Bloodied and mutilated? Then they could not be sure of it! How could they fall off the cliff so easily and it just so happened that his face was unrecognizable from this fall!

There were no coincidences in this world. "Transfer half of the personnel back to the capital to protect the Emperor and the other half will continue to track down the suspicious person."

"Yes." The young soldier left after accepting the command.

Long Yi Hai's life or death is related to whether this battle should go on or not. This is his best chance to prove himself, so he will not let anyone to ruin his plans.

Putting down the silver halberd in his hand, his hand slowly stroked the deep scar on his cheek; there was a cold radiance in You Xiao's eyes. That man named Shang Jun disappeared, after provoking him many times! He just disappeared without a trace!

He won't let him run away like this, no way!