

This chapter was translated for <http://nuttyisprocrasinating.wordpress.com> only. And only for those people who don't mind reading unprofessional translation that was being translated FREELY at the translator's, editor's and proofreaders' own free times.

Chapter 111.1

Unexpected Guest (Part 1)

How would he know?

Yu Han turned pale with fright, while Shang Jun sneered in his heart. Just knowing the name of these two things alone cost his family more than a hundred lives! How could he not know?! Ignoring Yu Han's eagerness to know the answer, Shang Jun secretly adjusted his breath and after making sure he was calm enough, he asked in a deep voice, "Do you remember Wu Zheng Ting?"

"General Wu?" The death of General Wu shocked Cang Yue at that time and even Dong Yu and Yan Rui could not believe it. How could Long Qu Mu destroy the whole Wu family? He was the most talented general in the whole world! Everything had been explained by Official Huang Qi, so he understood that the Wu family had run into this huge secret. With such an enormous secret that he knew along with commanding a massive military force, only his death could make the superiors feel at ease!

Yu Han nodded and sighed, "The people of Cang Yue respected General Wu, so how could I forget him? Did you learn about the posthumous edict from the two young ladies of the Wu family?!"

Shang Jun thought for a while before he replied, "Yes." He did not want to mention "Miss Wu from the Wu Family", as it would be easy to reveal his identity. But he (YH) obviously knew about them, so it seemed that he must have learned about it from Huang Qi, Gao Hai Ming and Li Ling, because he had only told those three.

“Are you from General Wu...?”

Shang Jun did not wait for him to finish his question when he said, “General Wu gave me the grace of life. He was honorable and loyal and served the country his whole life, but he suffered this grievance. I once swore an oath before his grave to avenge him and return the Wu family’s innocence!”

"So that's the case. How about the two ladies of the Wu family? Are they well?" No wonder at that time, he asked about trying to get justice, but why did the Miss of the Wu family not look for anyone and only looked for Shang Jun?

"After the catastrophe, they were isolated and helpless before they finally found me. After clearly explaining the whole story, I sent them to another country to recuperate. Now everything is fine." Shang Jun walked to the wooden chair beside the round table and sat on it. Once he finished what he was saying, he acted as if he did not want to talk anymore.

He obviously did not want to reveal the situation of the two young ladies and was very protective of them. Yu Han looked at Shang Jun's handsome and outstanding profile, which was indifferent and detached with an extremely attractive personality, when he suddenly realized, could it be that Shang Jun is Miss Wu's sweetheart?! General Wu's son-in-law?! It's no wonder then that he would take on the grudges of the Wu Family, because Miss Wu would have told him this secret!

Thinking that he had already guessed the relationship between Shang Jun and the Wu family, Yu Han no longer struggled with it and asked the question he was most concerned about, "Do you have any news about the jade ruler seal and the posthumous edict? I only listened to Official Huang Qi and he mentioned that Miss Wu once said Madam Wu left a blood letter before her death which recorded the fact that Long Qu Mu usurped the throne along with the location for the ruler jade seal and the posthumous edict."

"I've read the blood letter, but it only mentioned the writing of the posthumous edict and the country's ruler jade seal are hidden in the Phoenix coffin, while the mysterious stone is the key. There is nothing else. Have you heard of these two things?" Yu Han grew up in the palace, so he (SJ) hoped that he (YH) would know some clues, even if only a little!

Unfortunately, Shang Jun was disappointed when Yu Han shook his head blankly and replied, "Phoenix coffin? Mysterious stone? I have been in the palace for so many years, but I have never heard of it nor heard about it from my father. Did you do research but could not find anything?"

"There is no news or records about the Phoenix coffin, but there has been some progress on the mysterious stone." Under Yu Han's expectant gaze Shang Jun calmly replied, "The mysterious stone is a celestial stone handed down from ancient times, and the legend calls it a spirit stone that can be found in paradise on earth. I guess that this paradise on earth should be the Phoenix coffin known to the first Emperor. Before the first Emperor died, he had a close relationship with a mysterious magical expert and after he died, he disappeared. It is probable that the mysterious stone was also part of a mysterious object from the magical expert. But the first Emperor died almost 30 years ago and the mysterious magical expert was probably over a hundred years old at that time, so now his whereabouts are unknown. With great difficulty I was finally able to find out that the magical expert had two disciples, but even after looking for three years, I still haven't found either of the disciples."

The mysterious magical expert may have been over a hundred years old! Yu Han asked, "Who are the two disciples of the magical expert?"

"It is said that the eldest disciple is a genius doctor, but for many years now no one has mentioned the second disciple and no one knows this person; they are extremely mysterious! I already checked most of the people who can be regarded as genius doctors in this world, but I still can't find that person. It's been many years and Long Qu Mu has also been looking for the mysterious stone, so I'm betting that he knows more about this stone than us. We must be faster than him. If the posthumous edict and jade ruler seal fall into his hands, it will be extremely disadvantageous for you."

Naturally he had understood this and had also been in frequent contact with the generals under the Wu family. They also had resentment for what Long Qu Mu had done, but they said that they would never rebel against the country and become a rebel party. If they can't come up with a posthumous edict to prove that he is Cang Yue's legitimate monarch, it is destined that he will not get the support of the Wu family army.

"There is no other way even with the help from Wu Sheng Men organization?"

Shang Jun shook his head and replied helplessly, "The power of the Wu Sheng Men organization in Cang Yue is greater, and the disciples of the magical expert should be from Dong Yu." Wu Sheng Men organization has been investigating these past years and the most that they could find was that Long Qu Mu seized the throne by forcing the precious Emperor to abdicate. They still can't find a lot of news about the mysterious stone or the mysterious magical expert.

Sian's notes:

Ok, in chapter 110, Prince Rui's courtesy name used Zi Han, but in this chapter the character was using Yu Han. I'm not sure which one is correct and I'm too lazy to change it because the author used a lot of Yu Han names in this chapter. Lol... Just know that Zi Han is the same person as Yu Han which is Prince Rui. In the future, I'll try to stick with one courtesy name for Prince Rui, which is Yu Han. 😊