

This chapter was translated for <http://nuttyisprocrasinating.wordpress.com> only. And only for those people who don't mind reading unprofessional translation that was being translated FREELY at the translator's, editor's and proofreaders' own free times.

Ch 139.1

Asking for Help (Part 3)

The light blue sea was crystal clear as the setting sun was going down with the residual red penetrating the clouds, responding to the waves and revealing a refreshing breath. The breeze also brought the salty taste of the sea and the blue turquoise sea was like a beautiful picture. There was the broad sea and blue waves over there, but here was the green and golden bamboo forest, with a touch of salty sea moisture with the refreshing fragrance of bamboo leaves and bamboo plants on the seashore. The green and bright blue colors from the blue waves and bamboo really complemented each other, but no matter how one looked at it, it looked somewhat strange.

The bamboo forest was not big and there was a bamboo house deep within it; between the greenery, there were two people sitting on a low stool next to the stone table. The man was wearing a long purple shirt and he had a sturdy shape with a proud and domineering characteristic in between his eyebrows. But at this moment, there was a smile at the corner of his mouth while he was looking at the opposite person whom he loved, which was a woman who wore plain clothes.

The woman in regular plain clothes had black hair and as she held a white piece in her hand, she could not put it down for a long time. After a while, she finally put the white piece back in the chess box and smiled bitterly, "I have lost again! Why have I never won a game with anyone?!" Originally she thought Xuanyuan Yi was a military commander so his chess skills should not be so exquisite, but who knew that she would still lose.

Xuanyuan Yi amusedly touched her hand as he replied, "Then don't play chess, just rest your brain. Are you tired or hungry?"

Someone help her! Shu Qing touched her forehead and yelled, "I just finished eating and I am not a pig!" She ate three meals a day and he wanted her to eat six meals a day now, so was he trying make her blow up?!

He got up and walked to her; Xuanyuan Yi was not so foolish as he caressed her slightly big belly and pretended to be angry as he said, "You dare to say that you eat a little bit every day. Now you are not alone! You can't make my baby hungry!"

Shu Qing secretly sighed; she couldn't have this baby hungry, but also couldn't make her to die (from eating too much)! But Shu Qing intelligently did not say anything, because someone was going to be a father for the first time, so it would be better for her not to discourage his enthusiasm.

Looking at the setting sun that was about to be swallowed by the horizon, Xuanyuan Yi helped Shu Qing get up and said, "The wind is about to rise, so let's go inside the house." Although the summer season had started, the sea breeze was still cold. Shu Qing did not say anything, and followed Xuanyuan Yi, but she had only took a few steps when she heard a steed rushing towards them in the distance, breaking the bamboo.

Xuanyuan Yi squinted slightly while he guarded Shu Qing behind him, and only after the horses got closer when he saw Yan Yu, did he relax his guard.

The running horse stopped in front of the bamboo forest and Yan Yu walked quickly in front of Shu Qing and said, "Master!"

Shu Qing frowned slightly with a bad feeling in her heart and asked, "What is so urgent?"

"There is someone who wants to see you."

Shu Qing anxiously said, "Who is it?"

Yan Yu turned to his side and saw a woman in a plain clothes with a pale face standing behind him. Seeing Shu Qing, she knelt on the ground without saying a word before calling out, "Miss Shu Qing!"

This person was... Seeing the woman's face clearly, Shu Qing said in shock, "Lang Yue?!!" She was Shang Jun's person! How could she appear here? Now was not the day when the sea boat would enter and exit the sea. Lang Yue looked haggard, so her flustered look led Shu Qing's premonition to the worst case scenario, so Shu Qing said anxiously, "What happened? Get up and talk."

Who knew that instead of getting up, Lang Yue knocked her head heavily on the ground, as she was begging, "Lang Yue beg Miss Shu Qing, please save the Gentleman!" Miss Shu Qing was really not dead, and she finally found her, so she would also ask Miss Shu Qing to save the Gentleman!

"Shang Jun?!" Was it true that he had an accident?! With a tight heart, Shu Qing stepped forward, leaning on Lang Yue's arm and said, "What happened, you get up and talk!" In the past, Lang Yue was also a gentle and calm woman, but today she was in panic and looked haggard like this. It looked like something must had happened to Shang Jun!

Shu Qing pulled her, but Lang Yue refused to get up. Between both Shu Qing's pulling up and Lang Yue's pulling away, Shu Qing stepped on the hem of her skirt and almost fell.

"Be careful." Fortunately, Xuanyuan Yi hugged her in his arms at this time, and as Lang Yue also hurriedly reached out to support Shu Qing, she unexpectedly saw Shu Qing's bulging belly. In the summer the thin clothes were lightly pressed against the abdomen by the sea breeze, and her abdomen became more and more obvious.

Ms. Shu Qing is pregnant?! Seeing her abdomen, it was so obvious. She should be three or four months pregnant, would she still go out to save the Gentleman? She had already seen the turbulent waves on the sea when she came, so could Miss Shu Qing stand it?! Would she be willing to take this risk?!

Lang Yue was stunned and did not dare to speak, but Shu Qing was already anxious, "Lang Yue, don't be stunned like that, talk quickly! Are you alone? Are you with Xiao Xiao?!" What happened to Xiao Xiao??!

Lang Yue came back to her senses and quickly took out the letter and pendant that Shang Xiao gave her from her sleeve and handed it to Shu Qing as she replied, "I came with Gentleman Qin, but I didn't know where he went after he got off the boat. Miss Shang Xiao asked me to give this to you."